Last year, Naperville Vegetarian Food Festival was a resounding success and got glowing tributes from the audience. As a part of our registration, we collected data about our audience. Around 70% of the audiences were Caucasians and 30% were Asians. The festival with its focus on Vegetarianism captured the imagination of the Caucasians and based on last year's reviews, a significant turnout of Caucasians is expected this year.

Around 55% of the audience was less than 35 year old. Out of this 55%, a significant 35% was made up of young couples in the age group of 25 to 35 years who were accompanied by children. The rest of the audience comprised of 25% in the age group of 35 to 55 years and the remaining were seniors over 55 years.

More than 65% of the audiences were home-owners, 45% had family income between $75,000 to $100,000 and 30% of the audience had family income between $100,000 and $150,000. This data is corroborated by Naperville's demographic statistics of high family income and median home prices.
